WIRELESS REFRIGERANT SCALE

The SRS2C is a rugged wireless scale designed specifically for weighing refrigerant cylinders. No more tangled mess of wires to get in the way of your field service. The wireless remote control is securely stored inside the back of the rugged scale platform. The remote has a bright blue backlight. Hang it by the magnetic hat for easy, hands-free measuring. The platform is made of solid aluminum with rubber corners and diamond plate to protect against the hazards of daily use. Items are now in stock at Admor HVAC. Please call for pricing.

ClearVue

PUMP™

The ClearVue pump features iQ Technology which allows ClearVue to change pump speed and lift based on condensate flow. Other pumps are simply off or on but ClearVue starts pumping slowly, then gradually accelerates its lift if needed.

The ClearVue pump also features Floatless Sensor technology which allows for a more reliable operation.

No Float, No Problem!

ClearVue is the world's only self-cleaning condensate pump. If ClearVue senses a blockage, it will begin self-cleaning and pulsating the condensate water to try to remove the blockage. ClearVue gives you the most improved, user-inspired features on the market. Visit Admor HVAC to see the advantages first hand.

Visit www.clearvuepump.com for a video on why ClearVue is the smartest condensate pump on the market today.
